(DSGC) and are expected to encourage membership in these organizations. You should be an active supporter of all garden club activities.

The TFGC President calls all board meetings with a call letter or email 4 weeks prior to each meeting date.

Present 3 written copies of the motion form, one each for the president, recording secretary, and president-elect at the board meeting. The president sends the meeting agenda and motions to the board one week before the date. Bylaw motions require approval at a board meeting, being printed in the TVG, and final membership approval at the Annual Meeting. Changes or additions to the TFGC Standing Rules require approval at a board meeting. Job descriptions for officers and chairs are updated by the president or the Bylaws chair.

Officers and chairs are members of the Board of Directors and are expected to attend Board of Directors meetings. For the TFGC Annual Meeting (held each year with or without the convention, 9 copies of a report (no more than one-page) should be prepared. Board reports should be a brief summary of accomplishments and an outline of plans for future programs. These reports may be given orally or submitted without reading aloud.

Reports should be routed as follows with one for each of the following: president, president-elect, recording secretary, The Volunteer Gardener editor, the 4 district directors, and the website administrator. Instead of, or in addition to reports, chairs may display exhibits for attendees to view and pick up educational handouts.

When attending district meetings throughout the state, TFGC chairs may be recognized but will give reports only when asked in advance by the district director. Articles for The Volunteer Gardener submitted by officers and chairs are prepared following TVG guidelines.

As TFGC chairs, if you do not hear from your NGC or DSGC chair, make contact within a reasonable time after the NGC convention. The TFGC chair should initiate the contact. If information is still not forthcoming, contact the TFGC president and initiate appropriate programs on your own.

TFGC chairs should contact corresponding district chairs. Give your information to them in time for their reports to the district meetings. This is the proper line of communication. Forward a copy of all information sent to the districts to the president. When you need information from district chairs, advise them of the deadline for your report and of the kind of information required. Upon completion of your term, deliver a complete file of the activities of your two-year term to the successor in a timely manner.

If you want to present a motion at a TFGC Board meeting, please advise the president and present this motion in writing one week prior to the meeting for the agenda.
